Attorney General Williams [illegible] declared that Sidna Allen's bullets killed Judge Massie on the bench yesterday.

Cause of Tragedy Tries Suicide.

Floyd Allen, the cause of the tragedy, was taken to the lockup this morning under a heavy guard. He immediately whipped out a pocketknife and slashed his throat. His wounds, however, are not serious. Allen's son, Victor, Cabell, Stillkim, and Ward Marsh were locked up as witnesses.

Juror Fowler, who was wounded in the firing, is not expected to live through the night. The wounds of Jurors Kane and Wandell and clerk Goad are not serious.

Tonight the man hunt is in abeyance waiting for daylight. No native, let alone a stranger, will travel those mountain roads at dark with the Allen gang loose.

At daybreak one set of detectives that had reached Hillsville joined a party of deputy sheriffs from the neighborhood and set off up the mountain side. The traveling was slow and tedious. The other party, which went up the north side of the ridge, stormed the Allen house.

With the arrival of [illegible] confidence began to take the place of the terror that prevailed for 24 hours.

Judge Staples, designated by Governor Mann to come here and hold court, took the bench and summoned a special grand jury to indict the murderers. UNPRECEDENTED RAINS IN SOUTH ATLANTIC STATES

DANVILLE, Va., March 15.—An almost continuous and unprecedented rainfall for 42 hours today in this section [illegible] bridges [illegible] electric light and power plants [illegible] up trolley traffic and practically [illegible] enterprises in this city.

DAWSON, Ga., March 15.—Two negroes were killed and a score of buildings demolished and many bridges washed away as the result of a terrific storm which swept this county this morning.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—One of the worst rain and wind storms in ninety years swept over the south Atlantic states tonight, partially paralyzing railroad traffic, carrying off railroad and highway bridges and [illegible] disasters.

SPARTANSBURG, S. C., March 15.—Six inches of rainfall between 8 o'clock Thursday night and noon today caused rivers near here to overflow their banks, damaging property to the extent of $150,000 and causing the death of one man and probably [illegible] and temporarily paralyzing railroad and mill operation.

HEADLAND, Ala., March [illegible].—Five persons are known to have been killed in a tornado which early today [illegible] a dozen [illegible] injuring at least [illegible] of buildings.

At Hartford, [illegible] miles distant, a son of Wiley Adams was killed in the presence of the family and another boy is said to have been [illegible] badly hurt.

In Geneva county, [illegible] according to the advices obtainable, one [illegible] was killed and three persons injured.

ROOSEVELT CONFERS WITH LEADERS TO MAP OUT PLAN OF ACTION FOR CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, March 15.—What was perhaps the most important meeting of the leaders of the Roosevelt campaign yet held took place tonight.

Colonel Roosevelt [illegible] the chief [illegible] went over the entire situation to map out a plan of action that, it is understood, will have a decisive effect in shaping the campaign. The conference extended late into the night, and those who participated said they could make no definite announcement of the plans agreed on. Colonel Roosevelt met his aides at the home of his cousin, J. West Roosevelt. Those present were Senator Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's campaign manager; William L. Ward, Republican national committeeman from New York; Walter Brown, chairman of the Republican state committee of Ohio; Governor Hadley of Missouri; Governor Glasscock of West Virginia; George W. Perkins, Henry L. Stoddard and Frank A. Munsey, of New York; Albert J. Beveridge, former United States senator from Indiana; Alexander H. [illegible] of Chicago, chairman of the National Roosevelt committee, and Thomas Niedringhaus of St. Louis.

"This is a gathering of the clan," said Colonel Roosevelt. "Senator Dixon wanted [illegible] consult me about any speeches I might make during the campaign. He also wanted to meet the leaders [illegible] the New York and Chicago headquarters. I am not to undertake a long speechmaking trip. We are here to talk over just where it is necessary for me to speak."

Colonel Roosevelt said he was especially desirous of making as few speeches as possible. He would give [illegible] of the decision reached.

"In the view of apparent importance of this gathering, can you not say something as to its significance?"

"Not a thing," the colonel responded.

Colonel Roosevelt said that in the morning he would hold another conference with some of those who attended tonight's meeting.

Says Taft Figures Misleading.

In a statement today Senator Dixon declared that the list of instructed delegates given out by the Taft campaign managers was misleading.

"As a matter of cold facts," he said, "taking the entire list of southern delegates so far named in Mississippi, South Carolina, Alabama and Virginia, it is my candid belief that today, instead of the 109 delegates claimed by the Taft managers as instructed, they do not have more than 57. For instance, in New Mexico, of the eight delegates elected last week, six of them are for Roosevelt.

"When the Republican states of the northwest get into action it will tell the real story of the Roosevelt and Taft strength, and when these states get through there will be no question as to the results."

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Roosevelt headquarters tonight gave out an open letter by Gifford Pinchot, which quotes a letter written by Gilson Gardner, a newspaper man, to Walter L. Houser, Senator La Follette's campaign manager, denying that Colonel Roosevelt promised his support to the senator's candidacy, with the assurances that he himself would not become a candidate.

The letter was given out as an answer to Mr. Houser's statement today that "Pinchot knew Roosevelt not only encouraged, but was favorable to La Follette's candidacy until it came to appear that it might succeed."

Gardner's letter to Houser declares untrue any statement that Colonel Roosevelt urged La Follette to become a candidate. It then goes on to say that Colonel Roosevelt sent word by Gardner that he did not believe Senator La Follette could win, and that he believed Taft's renomination would be forced by money and patronage, and therefore Colonel Roosevelt said he did not feel like urging La Follette to go into a losing fight.

OLD BATTLESHIP MAINE WILL BE BURIED TODAY

HAVANA, March 15.—Tonight the battered, barnacle-rusted, distorted hulk of the battleship Maine lies swinging gently with the swell of the waves of Havana harbor, afloat by itself for the first time since it carried over 260 sailors to death amid the echoes of a hidden mine's detonation the night of February 15, 1898.

Tomorrow afternoon, it will be rounded three miles off the Cuban coast, [illegible] water will tell of opened sea valves, and a few minutes later, thousands of roses, scattered on its decks, will float off as the ship sinks to its last resting place at the bottom of the sea.

The cruiser North Carolina will turn its prow silently southward and bring home the recovered bodies of the men who went down with the Maine.

NO MORE TROOPS TO BORDER AT PRESENT

WASHINGTON, March 15.—No more troops will be sent to the Mexican border at present to enforce the neutrality laws. The army regards that the duty of civilian customs officers.

Troops now on the border will look to the protection of Americans and their property attacks from armed bands in United States territory.

NEBRASKA CONVICTS ARE STILL AT LARGE

LINCOLN, Neb., March 15.—The three convicts who yesterday murdered Warden Delahanty, Deputy Warden Wagner and Usher Heilman, at the Nebraska state prison, were at a late hour tonight still at large, with nothing that can be called a definite clew as to their hiding place. Four men were arrested at the town of Bennett, but late reports say they bear little resemblance to the murderers.

The man hunt is being vigorously prosecuted by city authorities, together with private detectives.

Sheriff Hyers and others, who are in charge of the pursuit, have definitely made up their minds that the men were assisted in reaching a safe cover by friends, and the only question now is whether they will be able to break through the dragnet that has been spread.

STORMS CONTINUE TO BLOCK TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Official advices to Superintendent Ingalls of the railway mail service indicate that the worst snow storm of the winter now is raging throughout the central west.

Many railway lines have abandoned trains, and mails are delayed.

Weather bureau officials said storms of Thursday had combined into a single storm of greater intensity over the upper Ohio valley, which is moving rapidly northeastward.

A series of toothed wheels revolve and chop up the clinkers in an ash sifter invented by a New York man.

This is the second time the opportunity has been given Dr. Franklin ... the position, but he refused it the first time, declaring that he would consider it only when it was made unanimously by the mission board.

When seen at ... last night Dr. Franklin said:

"The offer certainly makes a strong appeal to me. I am not prepared to give out any statement just now. The feeling in the denomination is such that it is hard for my place to refuse. To leave Colorado Springs and its people would be very painful to me. I have had overtures from many churches to induce me to accept a pastorate elsewhere, including two of the most efficient churches in Richmond, Va. Salary inducements have had no consideration from me, and could not induce me to leave the city and its people. I have been guided by motives which are nonsectarian in my pastorate, working for what I believe to be the best interests of Christ's kingdom."

Will Probably Accept.

There is a feeling among close friends of Dr. Franklin that he should not refuse the offer and it is believed he will accept it.

Dr. Franklin is not yet ... years old, and if he accepts he will be the youngest man who has ever filled the office. He declares that it offers a tremendous opportunity at a time when the far eastern countries are undergoing an awakening. The duties of the office will take him to all parts of the world, including China, India, the Philippines, Burma, Siam, Africa and the countries of northern Europe such as Russia, Norway and Sweden. It will put him in touch with a worldwide movement in a worldwide field, where he can advance his liberal policies which have made him so admired by the people of his church.

He has always believed that the "church should stand for the community and not the community for the church." This is the text of every sermon Dr. Franklin preaches. ... Springs he has been active in ... and in the mining camps of the ... where he began his ministry he was popular. His first pastorate was in Leadville in 1898, following his graduation from Richmond college, Richmond, Va. He then went to Cripple Creek and came to this city in 1906 as pastor of the First Baptist church.

He practically represents Colorado in the Baptist general organization, and is a member of the Foreign Board of Missions, secretary of the Northern Baptist convention and has spent two years in Africa in special missionary work.

Dr. Franklin says he regards his experience in Leadville and Cripple Creek as the best part of his training. His first church had 55 members when he took it but the attendance increased to more than 500 during the time Dr. Franklin was there.

The following announcement is made in this week's issue of the Standard:

"A noteworthy event was the election of Dr. J. H. Franklin of Colorado Springs, Colo., as foreign secretary, to succeed Dr. T. S. Barbour, resigned. If Doctor Franklin accepts this responsible position, for which he possesses so many outstanding qualifications, as it is believed he will, notwithstanding the pressure sure to be exerted to keep him in the pastorate, the whole denomination will rejoice. His fitness for the position is convincingly evident to all who know him. His missionary service as pastor in the mining towns of Colorado, his experience as district secretary in the Rocky Mountain district, his successful ministry at Colorado Springs, his training in leadership in the Colorado convention, his efficient management of the secretarial office of the Northern Baptist convention, his recent tour of investigation of missionary conditions in interior Africa in the Congo country and in the Sudan, all these well-performed duties and varied experiences, together with a vigorous body, a clear mind, a warm heart, a generous nature, a gift for public speaking and the ability to make and keep friends, combine to make him at

CHIEF CHEMIST WILEY QUITS GOVERNMENT WORK BECAUSE ACTS CURTAILED

WASHINGTON, March ... Dr. Harvey W. Wiley ... of the bureau of chemistry ... where ... he had been ... chief chemist ... government official ... Secretary ... Wilson ... the ... of the ...

Dr. Wiley ... of ... the ... of the ... of ... righteousness ... integrity which underlie the pure food and drug act ... that it may be administered in the interest of the people at large, instead of that of that comparatively few ... manufacturers ...

President Taft expressed regret at the resignation. Secretary Wilson said Dr. Wiley had been a valuable man. Dr. Wiley, in his statement, thanked Mr. Wilson for "the personal kindnesses and regard shown him," and likewise expressed his gratefulness to President Taft for exonerating him last summer in connection with alleged irregularities in employing Dr. H. H. Rusby of New York. Dr. Wiley declared in his remarks, however, that though he continued in his position after that incident, he naturally expected that "those who had made these charges" would be dismissed.

Found His Authority Curtailed.

"One by one," says Dr. Wiley, "I found that the activities pertaining to the bureau of chemistry were restricted, and various forms of manufactured food products were withdrawn from its consideration and referred either to other bodies, not contemplated by the law or directly relieved from further control.

"The official toleration and validation of such practices have restricted the activities of the bureau of chemistry to a very narrow field, as a result of which I have been instructed to refrain from stating in any public way, my opinion regarding the effect of these substances upon health. This restriction has interfered with my academic freedom of speech on matters relating directly to the public welfare."

Dr. Wiley explained that, while he did not determine to leave the government service until two days ago, for nearly six years there had been a growing feeling in his mind "that the differences between the superiors and himself were irreconcilable," and that he had been "conscious of an official environment essentially inhospitable."

Dr. Wiley has not yet decided whether he will continue his fight for pure foods through the lecture field, or as a writer or editor of household magazines.

Until his successor is chosen, Dr. R. E. Doolittle will act as chief of the bureau of chemistry.

President Taft today sent telegrams broadcast to heads of universities and colleges throughout the country, asking them to recommend a successor to Dr. Wiley.

"I am very sorry to lose Dr. Wiley, who has done a great work in initiating and enforcing the pure food law, and I would be very glad if he could remain in the service of the government," said President Taft.

"I feel that I shall have difficulty in finding a man to fill his place."

THE PRIMARIES

THE post card primary, intended to show the preference of the Republican voters of El Paso County for their presidential candidate, is under way. Last night return post cards were mailed to 7,170 registered Republican voters, asking an expression on the return card as to their preference among the candidates for the Republican nomination. The post card vote will cover Colorado Springs, Colorado City, and Ivywild. In the outlying precincts the vote will be taken in the usual form.

Whatever may be the preference of the Republican voter, it is well for him to bear in mind that this primary is made possible at the instance and through the earnest solicitation of the Roosevelt adherents. It is well to remember that throughout the nation, in every state from Maine to California, the Taft men have evaded the presidential primary issue. And it is well to remember that everywhere the adherents of Colonel Roosevelt have asked—even demanded—that the question be submitted and decided by the vote of the people.

Last week the first presidential primary ever held in the United States—and therefore the most significant—was conducted in Kansas City. It was a clear-cut fight between those who supported Colonel Roosevelt and those who advocated the renomination of President Taft. Roosevelt won, and won overwhelmingly. The vote, as we will call it, was about 15 to 1 in his favor. And it should be understood that this victory was attained in a regularly conducted primary election, and not in a mere "straw vote."

The Republican voters of El Paso County now have their chance to express their preference. A committee composed equally of the Roosevelt and Taft factions has made impartial rules for the conduct of the primary. The issue rests with the people. We are not aware that either side has made an undue expenditure of money, or resorted to any other unworthy methods to influence votes. Two days in advance of the count The Gazette takes advantage of this opportunity to express the belief that the vote will show the preference of a substantial majority of the Republican voters of El Paso County for Theodore Roosevelt as their presidential nominee next June.

PEOPLE VS. SPECIAL PRIVILEGE. Before casting his vote in this primary, let the Republican remember these facts:

Roosevelt made good in his administration; Taft did not.

Roosevelt has repeatedly shown both by word and deed, his adherence to the best ideals of popular government. Taft, though undoubtedly honest and sincere, has as frequently shown by his deeds that he is easily influenced to serve the interests of "big business" and other powers that prey upon the people.

Taft declares that judges are his ideal on earth of what we may expect in heaven—in short, that they are infallible; but Roosevelt says frankly that judges are entitled to respect only insofar as their actions merit respect, and that the mere fact of a lawyer's elevation to the bench does not necessarily entitle his acts and opinions to the reverence of the people.

If you believe in the sanctification of the courts; if you believe that any "practical politician" who through political pull can get himself elected to the bench, is thereby entitled to have any and all of his actions regarded as infallibly right—by all means, vote for Taft. But if you think otherwise, if you cherish the old-fashioned belief that the people of the United States should have a voice in their governmental affairs, write the name of Theodore Roosevelt clearly and plainly on your post card ballot, and mail it to the committee. And remember that this is our only opportunity of determining just how the people stand as to this question, and therefore it is your duty to register your own opinion.

THE TAFT CLUB

A CONTRIBUTOR [illegible] Parliament directs attention [illegible] ... claims and ideals [illegible] ... Colorado Springs.

This is [illegible] that we still think [illegible] the subject of greatest public interest [illegible] is the genesis of the present Taft club. Despite the labored explanations [illegible] paper, the [illegible] first instance Mr. [illegible] did [illegible] formation of a Taft club [illegible] graph did refuse to [illegible] on the ground that [illegible] a Taft club in this town the thing [illegible] done under the direction of Mr. [illegible] owner of the Telegraph [illegible] of Mr. Brooks for [illegible] the Telegraph [illegible] for a meeting to organize [illegible] that an organization [illegible] formed under the direction of Mr. Hamlin's supporters. Which means that the present "Taft Republican Club of El Paso County is exclusively a Hamlin organization, and that the best Mr. Brooks and his friends can expect will be the worst of it. The secret official [illegible] of the faithful Hamlin workers is to insert the stiletto under the fifth rib of whoever is suspected of a lingering allegiance to Brooks.

Meanwhile, Mr. Brooks [illegible] at Washington, unaware of the fate that has overtaken his unselfish and patriotic efforts to organize a Taft club in Colorado Springs. Our guess is that when he comes home and learns how his well-meant plans have been side-tracked by the emissaries of his old friend Hamlin there will be a grand bust-up in the Taft organization. Indeed, if it were not that the primary now under way in El Paso County will absolutely kill the Taft candidacy, insofar as it is a local issue, by revealing the overwhelming strength of Roosevelt, there would be every reason to look forward to the actual organization of an avowed rival to Mr. Hamlin's Taft club, officered and directed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Brooks. And wouldn't that be a most beautiful cat-and-dog fight!

OPEN PARLIAMENT

THE TAFT CLUB.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

We are regaled every day with the names of additions to the "Taft club" published in the evening paper, apparently for the purpose of [illegible] the vote at the post card primaries.

The purpose of these primaries was supposed to be to discover as near as possible what was the real sentiment of El Paso county as to whom it preferred for president, Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft.

But no sooner is it determined to have a post card primary than a Taft club is formed, and the names of the members are announced with a great flourish of trumpets, as much as to say to the Republican voters, "We are the Republican party and if you want or expect any standing as a Republican you must join us and support Mr. Taft."

But unless we are very much mistaken the result will be just the reverse from what is expected, and those who are truly desirous of the success of the Republican party and principles [illegible] of the Taft club, and it is our belief that the Taft club could do more to get votes for Mr. Taft by appearing to support Roosevelt than they can by proclaiming themselves as supporters of Taft. And why?

Because the Taft club is composed of two elements, which may be comprised under the general heads of special privilege or big business and machine politics, either of which is antagonistic, and both combined, absolutely fatal to the welfare of the Republican party, and what is more, the average voter is now aware of this fact.

Would you like proof of this statement? Here it is: Let us consider the recent history of the Republican party in El Paso county, keeping in mind all the time that on any fair test El Paso county is normally about two to one, or at the very least three out of five, Republican. Now let us go back a few years and see what happened when the present combination of special privilege and machine politics held sway, and consider the effects on the fortunes of the Republican party, and see if the results will justify anybody who has the ideals and success of the Republican party at heart in joining the Taft club. Let us take specific instances.

First—Five or six years ago Mr. F. E. Brooks conceived the idea that he would be a good man to represent Colorado in the United States senate. By a curious freak of fortune which it is unnecessary to go into here, he had absolute control of the El Paso county Republican machine, and had the state machine behind him. But the political machine was not enough, he also wanted big business. So he, or someone for him, got up a petition setting forth his virtues, and urging him to be a candidate for the senate. This petition was duly signed by about 150 as we recollect, and the list represented probably three-fourths of the wealth of El Paso county, and with a few additions was practically the same as the Taft club of today as first announced.

The primaries were held. And do you remember what happened to Mr. Brooks? After a heartbreaking struggle he carried a few precincts, including his own, but he and his machine were destroyed. The average Republican would have none of machine politics and big business combined.

Second—When Mr. Brooks was overthrown Mr. C. C. Hamlin, who considered himself also a candidate for the senate, and was leader in the Brooks fight, fell heir to the "Taft club" of that day—that is, the machine and special privilege. It is painful to recall even at this late date what happened to Mr. Hamlin. He and his machine were overthrown. He lost even his legislative ticket, and his machine was thrown into the gutter. But Mr. Brooks and Mr. Hamlin are both now in Washington and under the inspiration of the "Taft club" are filling Pennsylvania avenue with hot air, about how Colorado is overwhelmingly for Taft.

Third—Mr. Spurgeon was mayor of Colorado Springs. He had been elected by a good majority. He was a quiet, capable, efficient officer—and pr[illegible]

But see what happened to him. [illegible] Taft club, consisting [illegible] Mr. Spurgeon [illegible]

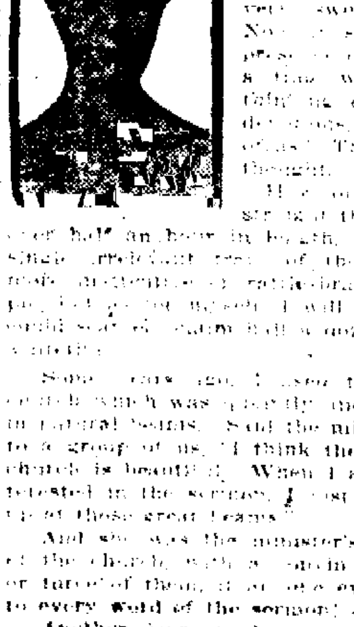
THE DAILY CHIT-CHAT
BY RUTH CAMERON

[illegible] sweetest lady I know, [illegible] those prayers I place [illegible] I don't suppose I [illegible] further to anyone who has [illegible] Sunday [illegible] innocent—

What she thought may have been [illegible] house gown dark blue next [illegible] recollection that we [illegible] Aunt Maria to ask her [illegible] may have been a wondering [illegible] cat were shut up where she couldn't get at our Sunday dinner, but it is always at astonishing variance with the [illegible] of the sermon.



And yet the author of these heresies is, as I said before, the very sweetest lady I know. Now if she thus betrays the presence of secular thoughts at a time when one should be thinking only of sermons and devotions, what about the rest of us? Truly it is an appalling thought.

How often do you listen [illegible] through to a sermon [illegible] half an hour in length, and not go off on a single irrelevant trend of thought? Perhaps I'm more distinctly scatter-brained than most people, but for myself I will frankly admit that I could count on half a dozen such occasions in a lifetime.

Some years ago I used to attend a fine old church which was [illegible] and beautifully finished in natural woods. Said the minister's wife one day to a group of us, "I think the architecture of this church is beautiful. When I am not especially interested in the sermon, I just love to sit and look up at those great beams."

And she was the minister's wife, the first lady of the church, with a convincing reason, nay two or three of them, if anyone ever had, for listening to every word of the sermon!

Another dear, good woman admits frankly that she plans all the children's clothes in church.

What are we going to do about it? May I offer two or three little suggestions?

My first is not to have any sermon over half an hour long, preferably nearer the 15-minute mark. A wicked shortening of one's devotions, you say? I don't see it that way. I think we could listen to a 15-minute sermon throughout, and surely that's better than hearing a few words of a longer discourse.

Another is for ministers to talk instead of preach. As I say, there have been a few occasions when I listened to the whole sermon. On most of these I sat under a minister who seldom raises his voice; never gets oratorical or audiencey, but just talks as if he were talking right to me, whereupon I feel in courtesy bound to listen to him just as I would to anyone who was talking to me. Whereas, with a minister who is preaching, I feel that he is addressing an Audience with a capital A, and it doesn't really matter whether I listen or not.

My third suggestion is for the audience—for you and me, in other words. And it is for us to realize that we don't honor God and worship him, and do our duty by sitting in a pew and thinking of clothes and pleasure and business, any more than by sitting at home and thinking of those things.

Presumably when we go to church we are dedicating a certain amount of time to honoring and worshiping God, and time spent in selfish secular thoughts is stolen from this dedicated time. Perhaps if we bolstered up our resolutions to really listen, by that point of view we might do a bit better.

Here's good luck to you—and me.

The Great Conflict
A Half Century Ago Today

MARCH 16, 1862.

[illegible] Garfield defeated a body of Confederates entrenched on the summit of the Cumberland mountains, in eastern Tennessee. The national troops, numbering 600, left their camp on the morning of March 14 and started for Pound Gap, 27 miles away. The distance was covered in something less than two days. The Confederates were taken entirely by surprise and were able to offer little resistance. Quantities of tents, stores and ammunition were captured and 500 squirrel rifles. All that could not be carried back on the shoulders of the Federals was destroyed before the column returned.

A battalion from the Fourth Illinois fell in with a company of Confederate cavalry near Pittsburg Landing and suffered a severe drubbing before they finally drove them off. The Federals ultimately retained the field, but with the loss of four men.

Martial law was declared in San Francisco, Cal., by General Wright, commander of the department of the Pacific. Major Hiram Leonard was appointed provost marshal.

The Times of Nashville, Tenn., suspended publication because of the restrictions placed upon free speech by Governor Johnson, recently appointed by President Lincoln as provisional governor of the state.

The bark Glen, which had been blockaded in Beaufort, N. C., for a number of months by the Federal blockading squadron, was burned by the Confederates, who feared she would be captured by the fleet.

MANITOU DEPARTMENT

The annual appropriation ordinance for next year will be acted upon by the Manitou town board at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The county commissioners have begun the work on the new bridge at Adams crossing between Manitou and Colorado City. It will be 20 feet wider than the old bridge and of more substantial construction.

R. L. Boutwell, manager of the Craftwood shops, has started work on a new building on the boulevard east of Manitou. It will be of the same architecture as the present building, but larger, and will be used as a residence.

Work on the Red Mountain Scenic railway is being rushed by the contractors and it is expected that the road will be ready for operation in time for the tourist season. The rails are now being laid and the construction of the upper station begun. The location of the station will be on Ruxton avenue, opposite the Catholic church.

The commencement day exercises at the High school will be held this year, May 30, Decoration day, and the schools of Manitou will close the following day. The third quarterly examinations will be held next week and the spring vacation will begin March 22 and end April 1. The program for the commencement exercises will be announced later.

Conclusive evidence that the substantial residence is taking the place of the tent house in Manitou is found in the recent building activity which has been going on during the last month. Much of the new work is being done by Oklahomans who are expecting to make the town their headquarters during the summer months. More than 20 buildings are now nearing completion, according to a Manitou business man yesterday.

Arguments will be made against the order of the school board in the matter of examination of school children. All are invited to attend the meeting.

ENGINEERS SOCIETY BANQUETS TONIGHT

The Engineers society of Colorado college will give its annual stag banquet at the Acacia hotel tonight. All the members of the club will be present and speeches will be made by L. E. COLLEGE STUDENTS IN FRENCH PLAYS TONIGHT

The Cercle Francais of Colorado college will give its annual dramatic event tonight, when the club will present two short comedies "Mon Etoile," by Eugene Scribe, and "Les Precieuses Ridicules," by Moliere. Lukewarm Courtships
[Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.]

The wisest of philosophers cannot tell how a love affair is to turn out. In the beginning their ardor starts off with a lively fire, but if not carefully tempered, it is sure to burn itself out. It is not every couple who become engaged who reach the altar. In the heart of one or the other interest has become lukewarm. When that occurs, the last embers of affection are dying. It cannot always be said that it is the fault of the sweetheart that her attractions have waned, or he has found her less lovable. Circumstances over which they have no control may have been the wedge which caused them to drift apart. Business controls many a man and is responsible for weal or woe in his future. His interests take him far away from the woman who loves him. She has no fear in her heart, blessed be letters, for they can wing their way between the two hearts and each knows the thoughts of the other.

The business may be arranged that will bring him again quickly to her side. How true are the words that man proposes, but God disposes. The few weeks of parting lengthen into a twelvemonth. At first his letters were all that could be desired to keep the flame of love in a glow. Then came a lapse. They became irregular and constrained. He cannot find enough to say to fill a page. The woman who loves always finds an excuse. He is busy. Perhaps the new business acquaintances whom he has formed require his attention and he is endeavoring to close up the business as quickly as he can to come back to her. She sends him a dozen letters to the one which she receives from him. Her mother hopes with her that all is well. Womanlike she pours all her heart out in the next few epistles which she sends to him. When after a long waiting she receives no reply she cannot delude herself into believing that he still loves her. She knows that his lukewarm courtship has dwindled out.

A woman writes me the following letter: "Dear Miss Libbey: Please tell me, a heart-broken reader of yours, just what to do! The man I love and hoped to marry has gone to the far west. He wrote me a few delightful letters brimming over with affection for me. Suddenly he stopped writing and does not answer my letters. Do what I will I cannot help but think of him and love him. Shall I write to some one in the town from where I last heard of him to find out if he is there? He mentioned a bachelor. Ought I to write to him, just to set my worries at rest and to make him jealous? AGNES."

It is impossible to arouse jealousy in the breast of a man who is content to let a sweetheart drift out of his life as though their hands had never clasped. I sympathize with you deeply, but it is best to tell you the truth, since you asked for it. It would seem to me that your lover's affection has undergone a change. He is desirous of breaking off with you.

Rise to the occasion. Do not let him find out that he has the power to wound your heart so cruelly. No spirited girl should continue to love a man who shows by his silence when away from her that his interest in her is of so frail a nature. You will [illegible] write to the bachelor friend [illegible] whether I say so or not. It [illegible] not surprise me if in the an[illegible] which you may receive you are [illegible] that there is another sweet[illegible] in the case, if not a bride. He [illegible] his just desserts for desert[illegible] getting one who has a luke[illegible] affection for him. If I were you I'd do my best to forget him [illegible] that he could take [illegible] to see you a few [illegible] thoughts were full [illegible] for your happiness. [illegible] ember that there is nothing [illegible] as a dead love. When the [illegible] affection are burned [illegible] be rekindled with the same [illegible] It requires a new one [illegible] which has to be spurred [illegible] as it were [illegible] use. If you take my ad[illegible] will begin the lesson of getting [illegible] done to follow the dictates [illegible] own heart. The [illegible] will not be silent [illegible] separating [illegible] you.

IN LOVE WITH PROFESSOR.

"Dear Miss Libbey: [illegible] I have never had the [illegible] of going out [illegible] the first place I am a [illegible] have to be my [illegible] after working [illegible] day in a watch factory [illegible] place, although [illegible] a day, my family [illegible] at home. I have [illegible] one professor for [illegible] although I have long [illegible] from time to time I [illegible] like him very much [illegible] number of times [illegible] but laughs at him [illegible] know is [illegible] encourage him without [illegible] impression that I [illegible] him? If you would [illegible] be very grateful."

Why not invite [illegible] to stay on his [illegible] as considerate and [illegible] as you know how [illegible] he will appreciate [illegible]

LONG ENGAGEMENTS.

"Dear Miss Libbey: [illegible] two years too long for [illegible] I don't like long engagements. [illegible] can't see our way [illegible] before that. I am a [illegible] 21 years of age and [illegible] good money. My [illegible] $4.50 a day. But he thinks [illegible] have everything in the [illegible] with. Do you think [illegible] have everything just [illegible] me what you think [illegible] would be too bold for [illegible] I think we could start [illegible] I don't want him to think [illegible] anxious to marry as I [illegible] years for him, only I have [illegible] much about long engagements [illegible] unlucky that I am afraid [illegible]

"NIGHT RIDERS" BLUFFED BY SHERIFF; BERNDT SAFE

Sheriff George Birdsall returned from the Yoder neighborhood [illegible] evening where he went yesterday morning to alleviate fears held by Charles Berndt and his children that their lives and property were endangered by a second visit of night riders. On a previous visit made by unknown persons Berndt and his children were given 30 days to leave the country. The time expired yesterday.

Berndt's wife died several weeks ago following an assault made by Berndt in which she was severely choked. The coroner's jury said that heart disease was the cause of her death. Berndt pleaded guilty to assault and paid a fine of $100 and costs in the district court.

It was following his return home that persons visited the home at midnight. After burning the front gate and shooting in the air they left a note saying that they must leave the country within 30 days. Sheriff Birdsall and M. W. Purcell, assistant district attorney, told him to stay.

A few days ago a daughter of Berndt wrote to Sheriff Birdsall expressing fear that the unknown persons would carry out their threat. Sheriff Birdsall's visit yesterday was to investigate conditions.

"I found that there was absolutely no danger of a second visit from night riders," Sheriff Birdsall said last evening. "I talked with the neighbors and all of them feel kindly disposed toward Berndt. I suspect one man of being responsible for the previous visit but I do not think that he will have nerve enough to start anything. They are all good people in the Yoder neighborhood and, with the one exception, there is no one who would not like to see Berndt stick it out and make a living for his motherless children. The one man's bluff has been called, and I do not look for any more trouble."

MARY M'KINNEY SHIPS ORE FROM NEW STRIKE

Returns from the first two cars of ore taken from the new strike in the Mary McKinney mine, which were sent to the sampler several days ago, were received at the local office of the Mary McKinney Gold Mining company yesterday, and show the value of one car of 40 tons to be 4.76¼ ounces, and the other, of 30 tons, to be 2.16 ounces. The shipment contained some of the richer ore, but for the most part was the low-grade rock struck first, which decreased the values considerably. It is expected that several more cars will be shipped within a few days.

The company is still drifting along the vein towards the winze, which is now about 190 feet away. A "bug hole" was struck about 75 feet from the point the vein was first struck, which is considered by mining men to indicate a rich, open vein, likely to be highly mineralized. A peculiar feature of the "bug hole" is that it was filled with loose ore instead of being hollow, as is usually the case.

THE PRIMARIES

THE post card primary, intended to show the preference of the Republican voters of El Paso County for their presidential candidate, is under way. Last night return post cards were mailed to 7,176 registered Republican voters, asking an expression on the return card as to their preference among the candidates for the Republican nomination. The post card vote will cover Colorado Springs, Colorado City, and Ivywild. In the outlying precincts the vote will be taken in the usual form.

Whatever may be the preference of the Republican voter, it is well for him to bear in mind that this primary is made possible at the instance and through the earnest solicitation of the Roosevelt adherents. It is well to remember that throughout the nation, in every state from Maine to California, the Taft men have evaded the presidential primary issue. And it is well to remember that everywhere the adherents of Colonel Roosevelt have asked—even demanded—that the question be submitted and decided by the vote of the people.

Last week the first presidential primary ever held in the United States—and therefore the most significant—was conducted in Kansas City. It was a clear-cut fight between those who supported Colonel Roosevelt and those who advocated the renomination of President Taft. Roosevelt won, and won overwhelmingly. The vote, as we will call it, was about 15 to 1 in his favor. And it should be understood that this victory was attained in a regularly conducted primary election, and not in a mere "straw vote."

The Republican voters of El Paso County now have their chance to express their preference. A committee composed equally of the Roosevelt and Taft factions has made impartial rules for the conduct of the primary. The issue rests with the people. We are not aware that either side has made an undue expenditure of money, or resorted to any other unworthy methods to influence votes. Two days in advance of the count The Gazette takes advantage of this opportunity to express the belief that the vote will show the preference of a substantial majority of the Republican voters of El Paso County for Theodore Roosevelt as their presidential nominee next June.

PEOPLE VS. SPECIAL PRIVILEGE. Before casting his vote in this primary, let the Republican remember these facts:

Roosevelt made good in his administration; Taft did not.

Roosevelt has repeatedly shown both by word and deed, his adherence to the best ideals of popular government. Taft, though undoubtedly honest and sincere, has as frequently shown by his deeds that he is easily influenced to serve the interests of "big business" and other powers that prey upon the people.

Taft declares that judges are his ideal on earth of what we may expect in heaven. In short, that they are infallible; but Roosevelt says frankly that judges are entitled to respect only insofar as their actions merit respect, and that the mere fact of a lawyer's elevation to the bench does not necessarily entitle his acts and opinions to the reverence of the people.

If you believe in the sanctification of the courts; if you believe that any "practical politician" who through political pull can get himself elected to the bench, is thereby entitled to have any and all of his actions regarded as infallibly right by all means, vote for Taft. But if you think otherwise, if you cherish the old-fashioned belief that the people of the United States should have a voice in their governmental affairs, write the name of Theodore Roosevelt clearly and plainly on your post card ballot, and mail it to the committee. And remember that this is our only opportunity of determining just how the people stand as to this question, and therefore it is your duty to register your own opinion.

THE TAFT CLUB

A CONTRIBUTOR [illegible] Parliament [illegible] [illegible] Colorado Springs.

This is [illegible] but we still [illegible] the subject of greatest public interest [illegible] is the genesis of the present Taft Club. [illegible] the labored explanations [illegible] paper the [illegible] first instance Mr. [illegible] did [illegible] formation of a Taft club [illegible] graph did refuse to [illegible] on the ground that [illegible] a Taft club in this town [illegible] done under the direction of Mr. [illegible] owner of the Telegraph [illegible] of Mr. Brooks for senatorial [illegible] the Telegraph thereafter published [illegible] for a meeting to organize a [illegible] that an organization [illegible] formed under the direction of Mr. [illegible] supporters. Which means that the present "Taft Republican Club of El Paso County is exclusively a Hamlin organization, and that the best Mr. Brooks and his friends can expect will be the worst of it. The secret official tip to the faithful Hamlin workers is to insert the [illegible] under the fifth rib of whoever is suspected of a lingering allegiance to Brooks.

Meanwhile, Mr. Brooks [illegible] Washington, unaware of the fate that has overtaken his unselfish and patriotic efforts to organize a Taft club in Colorado Springs. Our guess is that when he comes home and learns how his well-meant plans have been side-tracked by the emissaries of his old friend Hamlin there will be a grand bust up in the Taft organization. [illegible] not that the primary now under way in El Paso County will absolutely kill the [illegible] candidacy, insofar as it is a local issue, by revealing the overwhelming strength of Roosevelt, there would be every reason to look forward to the actual organization of an avowed rival to Mr. Hamlin's Taft club, officered and directed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Brooks. And wouldn't that be a most beautiful cat-and-dog fight!

"Teddy was wise in throwing his hat into the ring before April [illegible]. If he had waited until Fool's day someone might have put a brick in it."—Evening Telegraph.

So much the worse for whoever might kick the hat.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

THE TAFT CLUB.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

We are regaled every day with the names of additions to the "Taft club" published in the morning paper, apparently for the purpose of [illegible] the vote at the post card primaries.

The purpose of these primaries was supposed to be to discover as near as possible what was the real sentiment of El Paso county as to whom it preferred for president, Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft.

But no sooner is it determined to have a post card primary than a Taft club is formed, and the names of the members are announced with a great flourish of trumpets, as much as to say to the Republican voters, "We are the Republican party and if you want or expect any standing as a Republican you must join us and support Mr. Taft."

But unless we are very much mistaken, the result will be just the reverse from what is expected, and those who are really desirous of the success of the Republican party and principles [illegible] of the Taft club, and it is our belief that the Taft club could do more to get votes for Mr. Taft by appearing to support Roosevelt than they can by proclaiming themselves as supporters of Taft. And why?

Because the Taft club is composed of two elements, which may be comprised under the general heads of special privilege or big business, and machine politics, either of which is antagonistic and both combined, absolutely fatal to the success of the Republican party, and what is more, the average voter is now aware of this fact.

Would you like proof of this statement? Here it is: Let us consider the recent history of the Republican party in El Paso county, keeping in mind all the time that on any fair test El Paso county is normally about two to one, or at the very least three out of five, Republican. Now let us go back a few years and see what happened when the present combination of special privilege and machine politics held sway, and consider the effects on the fortunes of the Republican party, and see if the results will justify anybody who has the ideals and success of the Republican party at heart in joining the Taft club. Let us take specific instances.

First: Five or six years ago Mr. F. E. Brooks conceived the idea that he would be a good man to represent Colorado in the United States senate. By a curious freak of fortune which it is unnecessary to go into here, he had absolute control of the El Paso county Republican machine, and had the state machine behind him. But the political machine was not enough, he also wanted big business. So he, or someone for him, got up a petition setting forth his virtues, and urging him to be a candidate for the senate. This petition was duly signed by about 160 as we recollect, and the list represented probably three-fourths of the wealth of El Paso county, and with a few additions was practically the same as the Taft club of today as first announced.

The primaries were held. And do you remember what happened to Mr. Brooks? After a heart-breaking struggle he carried a few precincts, including his own, but he and his machine were destroyed. The average Republican would have none of machine politics and big business combined.

Second: When Mr. Brooks was overthrown, Mr. C. C. Hamlin, who considered himself also a candidate for the senate, and was leader in the Brooks fight, fell heir to the "Taft club" of that day; that is, the machine and special privilege. It is painful to recall even at this late date what happened to Mr. Hamlin. He and his machine were overthrown. He lost even his legislative ticket, and his machine was thrown into the gutter. But Mr. Brooks and Mr. Hamlin are both now in Washington and under the inspiration of the "Taft club" are filling Pennsylvania avenue with hot air, about how Colorado is overwhelmingly for Taft.

Third—Mr. Spurgeon was mayor of Colorado Springs. He had been elected by a good majority. He was a quiet, capable, efficient officer—and or-

THE DAILY CHIT-CHAT

BY RUTH CAMERON

The very sweetest lady I know [illegible] whose prayers [illegible] I don't suppose [illegible] who has [illegible] Sunday [illegible]

[illegible] down [illegible] recollection that [illegible] A of Maria [illegible] Wallace [illegible] have been wondering [illegible]

[illegible] were shut up when she couldn't get out on Sunday [illegible] but it is always [illegible] variance with the [illegible] of the sermon.

[illegible] the author of these [illegible] as I said before, the sweetest lady I know. [illegible] thus betrays the [illegible] of secular thoughts at [illegible] when one should be [illegible] only of sermons and [illegible] what about the rest [illegible] it is an appalling [illegible]

[illegible] you listen [illegible] a sermon [illegible] not go off on a [illegible] Perhaps I'm [illegible] than most people [illegible] frankly admit that I [illegible] such occasions [illegible]

[illegible] to attend a fine old [illegible] and beautifully finished [illegible] minister's wife one day [illegible] the architecture of this [illegible] When I am not especially interested [illegible] just love to sit and look [illegible]

[illegible] minister's wife, the first lady [illegible] reasons [illegible] ever had, for listening to every word of the sermon.

Another dear, good woman admits frankly that she plans [illegible] clothes in church.

What are [illegible] about it? May I offer two or three little suggestions?

My first is [illegible] have any sermon over half an hour long, preferably nearer the 15-minute mark. A wicked shortening of one's devotions, you say? I don't see it that way. I think we could listen to a 15-minute sermon throughout, and surely that's better than hearing a few words of a longer discourse.

Another is [illegible] ministers to talk instead of preach. As I say, there have been a few occasions when I listened to the whole sermon. On most of these I sat under a minister who seldom raises his voice, never gets oratorical [illegible] audiences, but just talks as if he were talking right to me, whereupon I feel in courtesy bound to listen to him just as I would to anyone who was talking to me. Whereas, with a minister who is preaching, I feel that he is addressing an Audience with a capital A and it doesn't really matter whether I listen or not.

My third suggestion is for the audience—for you and me. In other words. And it is for us to realize that we don't honor God and worship him, and do our duty by sitting in a pew and thinking of clothes and pleasure and business, any more than by sitting at home and thinking of those things.

Presumably when we go to church we are dedicating a certain amount of time to honoring and worshiping God and time spent in selfish secular thoughts is stolen from this dedicated time. Perhaps if we bolstered up our resolutions to really listen, by that point of view we might do a bit better.

Here's good luck to you—and me.

RUTH CAMERON.

The Great Conflict

A Half Century Ago Today

MARCH 16, 1862

The Confederates were taken entirely by surprise and [illegible] able to offer little resistance. Quantities of [illegible] stores and ammunition were captured and 500 squirrel rifles. All [illegible] could not be carried back on the shoulders of the [illegible] was destroyed before the [illegible] returned.

A battalion from the Fourth Illinois fell in with a company of Confederate cavalry near Pittsburg Landing and suffered a severe drubbing before they finally drove them off. The Federals ultimately retained the field, but with the loss of four men.

Martial law was declared in San Francisco, Cal., by General Wright, commander of the department of the Pacific. Major Hiram Leonard was appointed provost marshal.

The Times of Nashville, Tenn., suspended publication because of the restrictions placed upon free speech by Governor Johnson, recently appointed by President Lincoln as provisional governor of the state.

The bark Glen, which had been blockaded in Beaufort, N. C., for a number of months by the Federal blockading squadron, was burned by the Confederates, who feared she would be captured by the fleet.

MANITOU DEPARTMENT

The annual appropriation ordinance for next year will be acted upon by the Manitou town board at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The county commissioners have begun the work on the new bridge at Adams crossing between Manitou and Colorado City. It will be 20 feet wider than the old bridge and of more substantial construction.

R. L. Boutwell, manager of the Craftwood shops, has started work on a new building on the boulevard east of Manitou. It will be of the same architecture as the present building, but larger and will be used as a residence.

Work on the Red Mountain Scenic railway is being rushed by the contractors and it is expected that the road will be ready for operation in time for the tourist season. The rails are now being laid and the construction of the upper station begun. The location of the station will be on Ruxton avenue, opposite the Catholic church.

The commencement day exercises at the high school will be held this year May 30, Decoration day, and the schools of Manitou will close the following day. The third quarterly examinations will be held next week and the spring vacation will begin March 22 and end April 1. The program for the commencement exercises will be announced later.

Conclusive evidence that the substantial residence is taking the place of the tent house in Manitou is found in the recent building activity which has been going on during the last month. Much of the new work is being done by Oklahomans who are expecting to make the town their headquarters during the summer months. More than 20 buildings are now nearing completion, according to a Manitou business man yesterday.

Arguments will be made against the order of the school board in the matter of examination of school children. All are invited to attend the meeting.

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

Lukewarm Courtships

[Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.]

The wisest of philosophers cannot tell how a love affair is to turn out. In the beginning their ardor starts off with a lively fire, but if not carefully tempered, it is sure to burn itself out. It is not every couple who become engaged who reach the altar. In the heart of one or the other interest has become lukewarm. When that occurs, the last embers of affection are dying. It cannot always be said that it is the fault of the sweetheart, that her attractions have waned, or he has found her less lovable. Circumstances over which they have no control may have been the wedge which caused them to drift apart. Business controls many a man and is responsible for weal or woe in his future. His interests take him far away from the woman who loves him. She has no fear in her heart, blessed be letters, for they can wing their way between the two hearts and each knows the thoughts of the other. The business may be arranged that will bring him again quickly to her side. How true are the words that man proposes, but God disposes. The few weeks of parting lengthen into a twelvemonth. At first his letters were all that could be desired to keep the flame of love in a glow. Then came a lapse. They became irregular and constrained. He cannot find enough to say to fill a page. The woman who loves always finds an excuse. He is busy. Perhaps the new business acquaintances whom he has formed require his attention and he is endeavoring to close up the business as quickly as he can to come back to her. She sends him a dozen letters to the one which she receives from him. Her mother hopes with her that all is well. Womanlike she pours all her heart out in the next few epistles which she sends to him. When after a long waiting she receives no reply she cannot delude herself into believing that he still loves her. She knows that his lukewarm courtship has dwindled out.

A woman writes me the following letter: "Dear Miss Libbey: Please tell me, a heart-broken reader of years, just what to do! The man I love and hoped to marry has gone to the far west. He wrote me a few delightful letters brimming over with affection for me. Suddenly he stopped writing and does not answer my letters. Do what I will I cannot help but think of him and love him. Shall I write to some one in the town from where I last heard of him to find out if he is there? He mentioned a bachelor. Ought I to write to him, just to set my worries at rest and to make him jealous? AGNES."

It is impossible to arouse jealousy in the breast of a man who is content to let a sweetheart drift out of his life as though their hands had never clasped. I sympathize with you deeply, but it is best to tell you the truth, since you asked for it. It would seem to me that your lover's affection has undergone a change. He is desirous of breaking off with you.

Rise to the occasion. Do not let him find out that he has the power to wound your heart so cruelly. No spirited girl should continue to love a man who shows by his silence when away from her that his interest in her is of so frail a nature. You will [illegible] write to the bachelor friend [illegible] whether I say so or not. It [illegible] not surprise me if in the answer [illegible] you may receive you are [illegible] that there is another sweetheart [illegible] in the case, if not a bride. He [illegible] his just desserts for deserting [illegible] in getting one who is as lukewarm [illegible] affection for him. If I were you [illegible] best to forget him [illegible] own heart you know [illegible] that he could take a few [illegible] to tell you a few lines [illegible] thoughts were full [illegible] your happiness.

[illegible] ember that there is nothing [illegible] is a dead love. When [illegible] affection are burned [illegible] be relighted with the [illegible] It requires a new [illegible] which has to be spurred [illegible] as it were [illegible] If you take my ad[vice] [illegible] learn the lesson [illegible] time to follow [illegible] The [illegible] will [illegible] silent [illegible]

IN LOVE WITH PROFESSOR.

"Dear Miss Libbey: [illegible] have never had the [illegible] means of going out [illegible] the first place I am a [illegible] and have to do my studying [illegible] after working [illegible] day in a watch factory [illegible] second place, although [illegible] more a day, my family [illegible] port at home. I have [illegible] from one professor for [illegible] although I have [illegible] from time to time [illegible] like him very much [illegible] number of times [illegible] but I laugh at [illegible] like to know is [illegible] courage him without [illegible] impression that I [illegible] him? If you would [illegible] be very grateful [illegible]

Why not invite [illegible] to stay on his [illegible] as considerate [illegible] as you know how [illegible] he will appreciate [illegible]

LONG ENGAGEMENTS

"Dear Miss Libbey: [illegible] two years too long for [illegible] I don't like long engagements [illegible] can't see our way [illegible] fore that. I am a tra[veler] [illegible] 21 years of age and [illegible] good money. My [illegible] $4.50 a day. But he [illegible] have everything in the [illegible] with. Do you think [illegible] have everything [illegible] me what you think [illegible] would be too bold for [illegible] I think we could stay [illegible] I don't want him to [illegible] ious to marry as I [illegible] years for him, only I [illegible] much about long engagements [illegible] unlucky that I am afraid [illegible] "MARGUERITE."

A girl is always placed in a barrassing position when an engagement lingers beyond bounds. There is no reason [illegible] should not let your intended [illegible] how you feel in regard to th[is] [illegible]

COLLEGE HEADS DISCUSS PLANS TO RAISE FUNDS

The financial affairs of the college, plans for the proposed new gymnasium and the campaign to raise $200,000 for the endowment fund were discussed by the members of the finance committee of the board of trustees of Colorado college at a luncheon given by President W. The committee also considered the audit of the books of the college up to the time that W. W. Postlethwaite succeeded Irving Howbert as treasurer last spring. "NIGHT RIDERS" BLUFFED BY SHERIFF; BERNDT SAFE

Sheriff George Birdsall returned from the Yoder neighborhood last evening where he went yesterday morning to alleviate fears held by Charles Berndt and his children that their lives and property were endangered by a second visit of night riders. On a previous visit made by unknown persons Berndt and his children were given 30 days to leave the country. The time expired yesterday.

Berndt's wife died several weeks ago following an assault made by Berndt in which she was severely choked. The coroner's jury said that heart disease was the cause of her death. Berndt pleaded guilty to assault and paid a fine of $100 and costs in the district court.

It was following his return home that persons visited the home at midnight. After burning the front gate and shooting in the air they left a note saying that they must leave the country within 30 days. Sheriff Birdsall, and M. W. Purcell, assistant district attorney, told him to say.

A few days ago a daughter of Berndt wrote to Sheriff Birdsall expressing fear that the unknown persons would carry out their threat. Sheriff Birdsall's visit yesterday was to investigate conditions.

"I found that there was absolutely no danger of a second visit from night riders," Sheriff Birdsall said last evening. "I talked with the neighbors and all of them feel kindly disposed toward Berndt. I suspect one man of being responsible for the previous visit, but I do not think that he will have nerve enough to start anything. They are all good people in the Yoder neighborhood and, with the one exception, there is no one who would not like to see Berndt stick it out and ... for his motherless children. The one man's bluff has been called, and I do not look for any more trouble."

MARY M'KINNEY SHIPS ORE FROM NEW STRIKE

Returns from the first two cars of ore taken from the new strike in the Mary McKinney mine, which were sent to the sampler several days ago, were received at the local office of the Mary McKinney Gold Mining company, yesterday, and show the value of one car of 40 tons to be 4.76½ ounces, and the other, of 30 tons, to be 2.16 ounces. The shipment contained some of the richer ore, but for the most part was the low-grade rock struck first, which decreased the values considerably. It is expected that several more cars will be shipped within a few days.

The company is still drifting along the vein towards the winze, which is now about 190 feet away. A "bug hole" was struck about 75 feet from the point the vein was first struck, which is considered by mining men to indicate a rich, open vein, likely to be highly mineralized. A peculiar feature of the "bug hole" is that it was filled with loose ore instead of being hollow, as is usually the case.

What the Press Agents Say

FAMOUS GRAND OPERA TODAY, MATINEE AND NIGHT

The ... version of "The Bohemian Girl," ... Aborn Opera company ... offer in English at the opera house today (Saturday), matinee and night, proved to be one of last season's most successful offerings in every city in which it was presented. It is said to be distinctly unlike any former presentation of this charming opera that has been given in America. Balfe's delightful music is not only rendered by a splendid singing cast of grand opera soloists, assisted by a large and well-drilled chorus and orchestra, numbering upwards of 100 people, but a special scenic environment of huge dimensions and unusual magnificence has been provided. The Messrs. Aborn have managed to introduce with perfect consistence in this grand old opera a cavalcade of trained horses, bands of real gypsies, a troupe of wonderful whirlwind acrobats and many other startling novelties, including a surprisingly realistic fair or kermess of old Bohemia, and in the last act presenting the most elaborate stage setting, a scene representing the palace ballroom of Count Arnheim, with its famed marble halls, wherein the dazzling "Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda," takes place as a concluding divertissement of an evening's fete.

The cast includes Blanche Morrison in the soprano role of Arline, Hattie Belle Ladd as the Gypsy Queen; John R. Phillips (formerly of "The Chocolate Soldier") as Thaddeus, Harry Luckstone as Count Arnheim, George Shields as Devilshoof, Augustus Vaughan as Florestein, and Mario Anderson as ... Buda.

Seats selling at the box office. Prices: Matinee, 50c to $1.50; evening, 50c to $2.50. Phone Main 72...

A NEW YORK SUCCESS, "THE DEEP PURPLE"

"The Deep Purple," a new play of New York life of today, comes to the opera house next Thursday, March 21, after four months in Chicago and half a year in New York, where it was one of the few real hits of last season. It has to do with certain incidents in the lives of several persons whose vocations are not listed among the useful professions, and with one person in particular, whose ... suggests he was born "in the purple." It is the work of Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. While the play is based on a particular form of blackmail, much in favor among international criminals, there is nothing in its context to offend the most sensitive theatergoer.

The production is truly one of the best dramatic offerings of the season in Colorado Springs. Seats ready Tuesday, March 19.

"SHAMUS O'BRIEN" AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY

This subject, which will appeal to every Irishman in the world, is based upon the well-known poem by Samuel Lover.

Shamus O'Brien is a figure in Irish poetry dear to every son of Erin. The story of his heroism, capture and escape has been weaved into a thrilling ... and beautiful photoplay.

Shamus O'Brien was a patriot, and, in fighting for his country, places himself in the position of a rebel with a price on his head.

He is hiding in the hills, but anxious to attend a dance, at which his friends and sweetheart will be present, sends word that he will be there. Arrangements are made for the dance and Shamus surprises the guests by appearing in a surprising manner. Michael O'Farrel, who has not met with success in his suit for the hand of Aileen Brennan, the sweetheart of Shamus, learns of his whereabouts, and notifies the Red Coats. They reach the barn where the dance is taking place, too late to capture the patriot, who escapes to the loft, only to return as the girl of his heart is being insulted by Captain McDonald. O'Brien floors the officer and makes a thrilling escape, only to again be given up by O'Farrel, when he is visiting his mother. He is then taken to prison and stands trial. He is convicted, and the day of execution set. As this draws near, his mother makes a plea to the parish priest for help, which is readily given, and, through a ruse, Shamus is saved; and the picture closes as the mother, son and sweet-

DANGER PERIOD OF WOMANS' LIFE FROM 45 to 50

Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

Asheville, N.C.—"I suffered for years with female trouble while going through the Change of Life. I tried a local physician for a couple of years without any substantial benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I quit my physician and commenced using it with the happiest results. I am today practically a well woman and anxious to contribute my mite towards inducing others to try your great medicine, as I am fully persuaded that it will cure the ailments from which I suffered if given a fair chance.

"If you think this letter will contribute anything towards further introducing your medicines to afflicted women who are passing through this trying period, it is with great pleasure I consent to its publication."—Mrs. Julia A. Moore, 17 F... St., Asheville, N. C.

The Case of Mrs. Kirlin.

Circleville, Ohio.—"I can truthfully say that I never had anything do me so much good during Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Before I had taken one half a bottle of it I began to feel better, and I have continued taking it. My health is better than it has been for several years. If all women would take it they would escape untold pain and misery at this time of life."—Mrs. Alice Kirlin, 358 W. Mill St., Circleville, Ohio.

The Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. At such time women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The vast great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or ... and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system has become so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S. S. S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S. S. S. tones up the stomach and digestion, rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the overwrought nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

AN AIRSHIP HARBOR THERE

From the Chicago News.

HAMBURG, Germany.—Germany's new airship harbor in this city is nearly completed. It is the most important structure of the kind in the world. In time of war it will be the base from which airships will be sent out, doing duty for the German squadron on the North sea. In time of peace it will be used by Count Zeppelin for making training trips to the English, Swedish, Danish and Norwegian coasts.

The hangar is built entirely of steel and iron, the pillars being strong enough to support in addition to the weight of the structure itself any additional weight, such as that of snow and of two unfilled dirigibles suspended from the roof. The length of the hangar is 165 meters (541 feet), its width is five meters (16.8 feet), and its height is 30 meters (99 feet). It will be a new Friedrichshafen, with workshops for repairs and for the supplying of hydrogen.
